OgaPay

BRAND RESOURCES / 2026

Earn your way.

The OgaPay brand kit.

Logos. Colour. Type. Voice.

A consistent identity for every touchpoint.

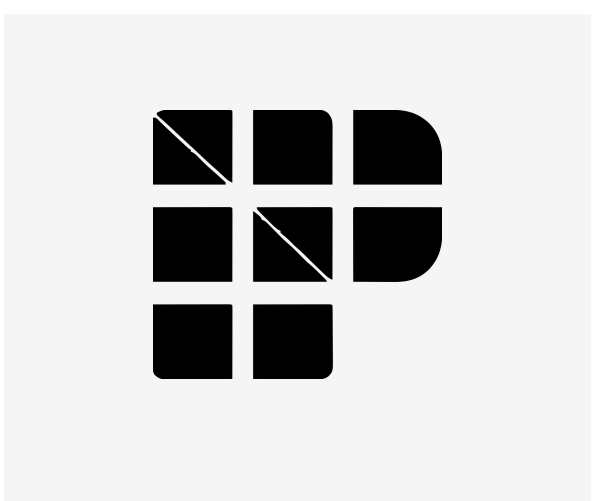

Version 1.0 / 21 October 2026

The logo system.

Use the supplied lettering and geometric mark together as the primary identity.

Standalone mark

Use for avatars, app icons and compact brand placements. Use the full name nearby when the audience may not recognise the symbol.

SVG masters are reconstructed from your supplied image. The original raster is included unchanged. Use these files rather than logos recreated inside generated mockups.

Space makes it clear.

Proposed working rules for a consistent logo across screens and print.

Clear space: one tile height

Leave at least one logo tile height on every side of the lockup or mark. Keep text, crop edges and other graphics outside that space.

Minimum sizes

Horizontal lockup: 160 px wide on screen, 32 mm in print. Standalone mark: 32 px wide on screen, 8 mm in print. These are v1 starting points; inspect the diagonal cuts at final size.

Always preserve

Original proportions, tile spacing, diagonal cuts, rounded corners and wordmark lettering. For embroidery or engraving, ask your supplier to proof the small gaps before a production run.

Black. White. Intentional.

A restrained palette with Inter for readable headlines, interface labels and body copy.

Suggested type scale: 48 / 32 / 24 / 16 / 14 px. Use sentence case, generous line spacing and short, direct headlines. Inter supports communication; do not use it to retype the logo.

Inter font files and the original SIL Open Font License are included. Core palette: black and white. Supporting neutral shades are proposed in this kit.

Sound like OgaPay.

Production note

The supplied raster is the source of truth for this v1 kit. Reconstructed SVGs should be compared with the original designer files before production. This package does not publish a live brandkit page.
